Emory Austin Keynote Speaker

Emory Austin is fascinated by the myriad ways in which different people think, by why they do what they do, neglect what they neglect, and by the patterns for success or failure they develop in the process. Her extraordinary gifts as a storyteller and strategist will help you identify with her in ways that you will remember and use, because she will help design a path for connecting life lessons to practical insights.

Emory's presentations are unforgettable, growth-focused, and delightfully humorous.

Join us to learn her well-defined approaches to leadership, change, balance, customer service and teamwork. It's all about subjective, human attitudes and action choices in an increasingly electronic world, and Emory builds a strong bridge between the two that is unifying, practical, and exciting.

Heart disease is the number one killer of American women...not breast cancer, as commonly thought. The Go Red For Women Campaign was established to empower women with the knowledge and tools to make positive lifestyle changes.
